The President's Pen

Happy Holidays to our Members and Associates of Daughters of Utah Pioneers.

This is the time of year when our thoughts turn to gratitude, kindness, and giving. I am always inspired by the story of the Hole-in-the-Rock pioneers, camping 40 miles from Escalante in the bitter cold weather in the winter of 1879. It was Christmas Eve, and they were running out of supplies. About one hundred children hung their stockings to wagon wheels, and their mothers promised them that Santa would find them in this place that had little fuel, a scarcity of food and water, and homes in the beds of wagons. These mothers combined their scant resources, and on Christmas morning, each child received a few kernels of parched corn or a cookie in their stocking. They had a joyful day with games, wrestling matches, and a dance in the evening.

Ellen Jeppson
ISDUP President

Several years ago, my daughter took her two little boys to a local store a few weeks before Christmas. They were looking at all the toys on the shelves, but the gift most wanted was a new bicycle. They carefully examined each bike, running their little hands over the seats and wishing for their favorite color. My daughter directed their attention to another display while she quietly asked a clerk if he could save the two bikes for the evening when she could send her husband to look at them. When my son-in-law returned that night for the bikes, he handed his card to the clerk to pay. The clerk handed back the card with the receipt for the bikes, which had been paid in full. He told my astonished son-in-law that a man who was shopping had seen the boys and their mother, and after watching them for a few minutes, he followed the clerk to the cash register and paid for the bikes. This kind gesture from an unknown gentleman has always been remembered with gratitude by my family.

The Christmas season can inspire all of us to be kind in word and deed to all those around us. As we rise above our own trials and troubles to bring joy to others, we unwittingly bring joy to ourselves. We have countless examples of these sacrifices from our pioneer ancestors. It is now our turn to leave stories from our own actions to our children and grandchildren to give inspiration for them in their lives.

We know much of what our pioneer ancestors sacrificed for us. We show our appreciation, admiration, and love to them by emulating their lives and remembering their stories.

With respect and gratitude,
Ellen Jeppson

FROM THE EDITOR

It has been fun celebrating the 125th anniversary of DUP this past year and hearing about so many meaningful and successful celebrations in Camps and Companies throughout the organization. This past summer the ISDUP Board signed and mailed cards to 92 Camps that have been organized for 100 years or longer. We challenge all active Companies and Camps to research and report their founding date. The information we have is recorded on a spreadsheet that can be found on the website's homepage under "DUP News." If your date is missing, or if it is incorrect, please send an email with the correct information to membership@isdup.org. It is exciting to be a part of an organization that has been preserving the history, heritage and legacy of our pioneer ancestors for 125 years and help ensure their stories and sacrifices are remembered for generations to come.

WEBER COUNTY MUSEUM CELEBRATES PIONEER DAYS

The Weber County DUP Museum, in Ogden, Utah, opened their doors to the Ogden Community on July 24, 2026, for a toe-tapping, knee-thumping celebration of Pioneer Days that drew more than 400 guests. Featuring western and pop music performed by the Dusty Roses and honoring the Museum's 2026 Royalty, the day-long event provided a relaxing atmosphere for individuals and families who attended the annual Pioneer Days Parade or came to celebrate the July 24th holiday.

DUP members served cool drinks and cookies to guests, and games with prizes were available for the children. A sidewalk sale of items from the Museum Gift Shop was set up on the patio.

This year's Weber DUP Royalty are Linda Barker Brown from Weber North East Company, Linda Holmes Fulmer from Weber West Company, Charlene Rex Taylor Herbert from Weber North Center Company, and DaLane Ryan Miller from Weber Far South Center Company. They were introduced to DUP members, family, and friends at a crowning ceremony June 27, 2026, at the Museum where they received their crowns, pins, and sashes. During Pioneer Days Week in Ogden, the Royalty was honored with special seating and introduced at the annual Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints Pioneer Days Devotional with speaker Jennie Taylor, Gold Star widow and CEO of the Major Brent Taylor Foundation, and at the Ogden Pioneers Day Rodeo. They rode in the Pioneer Days Parade in a comfortable, horse-drawn carriage driven by LaMar and Jason Taylor.

PUGET SOUND SOUTH COMPANY JUBILEE

The Puget Sound South Company, in Tacoma, Washington, chose the words of Annie Taylor Hyde as the theme for their Jubilee held on June 27, 2026, "Cementing together in the bonds of friendship and love," with a focus on DUP history.

Fifty women attended the celebration. The history of the organization was brought to life through presentations featuring Annie Taylor Hyde, Kate B. Carter, and Brigham Young. After watching the DUP 125th anniversary video, attendees truly felt "cemented" together with ISDUP members worldwide. Decade displays by the various Camps in the Company decorated each lunch table, showcasing DUP's history.

BOX ELDER SOUTH COMPANY CELEBRATES 125 YEARS OF DAUGHTERS OF UTAH PIONEERS

Box Elder South Company, in Brigham City, Utah, celebrated 125 years of Daughters of Utah Pioneers at their Jubilee on June 27. Captains from Camps with one hundred or more years of activity were honored, and each shared a short history of their Camp. Their reports included the Camp's origination or charter date, total membership, number of original members, current members, direct descendants of original members, new members, and deaths recorded from June 2025 through May 2026.

MOUNTAIN VIEW CAMP VISITS BENNION HERITAGE CENTER

Most DUP Camps take a break during the summer months, but members of the Mountain View Camp, Salt Lake South Company, missed their association with each other. On July 8, 2026, they took a field trip to their local Taylorsville-Bennion Heritage Center. The home was built by Archibald Frame, Sr. in 1906, on historic 4800 South in Taylorsville, Utah. The historic house's museum has been decorated to reflect what a home might have looked like in the early nineteen hundreds. Their personal tour guide, Joan White, pointed out items of special interest and answered questions. Many of the Camp members shared that the antiques displayed had been used in the homes of their parents or grandparents and brought back fond childhood memories.

BANNOCK NORTH COMPANY VISITS GHOST TOWN

Bannock North Company, in Pocatello, Idaho, enjoyed a day trip to the historical ghost town of Chesterfield, Idaho. Chesterfield is a preserved pioneer settlement honoring early Latter-day Saint families. It features a seasonal Daughters of the Utah Pioneers museum and historic DUP markers commemorating the community's legacy. The Company toured the townsite and viewed the DUP historical markers in a wagon driven by a tour guide whose family was one of the early settlers.

SCRUB OAKS CAMP BEAUTIFIES PARK

In commemoration of the 125th Anniversary of DUP, Kathy Black, Captain of the Scrub Oak Camp, Salt Lake Olympus Company, organized a service project on May 20, 2026, for the Upper District Mill Creek Park, located at 3805 S. Wasatch Blvd in Salt Lake City. This park pays tribute to the early settlers, and the original mill owners along Mill Creek's upper area. The park includes a replica of a working water wheel, pond and mill.

Camp members worked hard to beautify the park, and the average age of the group was seventy-five. They weeded, planted, and built a rock path around the area where a new bench is now located. This bench was constructed by Bruce Mahoney and includes a plaque in commemoration of the 125th Anniversary of DUP. Camp Members were honored to have Doralee Madison attend, as she and her late husband, Richard Madison, were the funding chairmen of the park project in 2000. Scrub Oaks Camp members invite all to visit the park, enjoy its beauty, reflect on the past, and feel the pioneer spirit that resides in the Park.

PIONEER MEMORIAL MUSEUM WILL EXTEND HOURS FOR THE SALT LAKE TEMPLE OPEN HOUSE

The Pioneer Memorial Museum is planning to extend its operating hours from April through October 2027 to accommodate visitors attending the Salt Lake Temple Open House.

Extended Hours:

Monday-Friday 9:00 a.m. – 7:00 p.m.
Saturday-Sunday 1:00 p.m. – 5:00 p.m.

If you are interested in volunteering as a docent during this time, please call the Museum Office at 801-532-6479 for more information.

HATS OFF TO DUP

The Veyo Camp, Washington West Company, in Veyo, Utah, celebrated the 125th birthday of ISDUP with a beautiful and authentic English High Tea honoring past and present Washington West Company Presidents and Veyo Camp Captains.

Special guests traveled many miles to attend the celebration, including Vera Seitz of Gilbert, Arizona, who served as the first Veyo Camp Captain and Washington West Company President from 2000 to 2005. Vera encouraged attendees to remember their pioneer ancestors and the courage, faith, and determination that shaped their lives.

A highlight of the afternoon was the keynote address by Mary Jones, who spoke about her great-great-grandmother, Manomas Lavina Gibson Andrus, featured in the May DUP lesson (pg. 324). Manomas was honored at the 1939 Pioneer Day celebration as one of the last two surviving women pioneers of the 1847 trek. Mary lovingly recalled childhood visits to her grandmother's St. George home, where she jumped on her gramma's bed and listened to pioneer stories. Her remarks reminded attendees that many of them may be the last living links to the original Utah pioneers and therefore bear the responsibility of preserving their stories.

100 YEAR CELEBRATION FOR OGDEN CAMP

West Weber 34 Camp, Weber West Company, in Ogden, Utah, celebrated 100 years of DUP. Current Captain, Shirley Penman Atkinson, is the granddaughter of the first Captain, Annie Gibson Penman, of the West Weber 34 Camp organized on August 22, 1926. A group of twenty, including the President of the Weber West Company, Linda Fulmer, enjoyed the 100-year celebration with displays and photos of the original charter members from 1926. Six current members of the Camp are descendants of the original charter members who joined in 1926.

TIFFANY PIN COMES HOME

To commemorate the 50th anniversary of the arrival of Brigham Young's wagon into the Salt Lake Valley, the Semi-Centennial Commission was established to organize a four-day Pioneer Jubilee honoring the surviving pioneers. The committee commissioned a commemorative badge created by Tiffany & Company of New York, made of solid gold and costing $10 each. This pin features a central portrait of Brigham Young surrounded by a beehive, four bees, a locomotive, a Pony Express rider, a covered wagon, and the date 1847. The badges were given to the surviving pioneers of 1847 who attended the Pioneer Jubilee, and the recipient's name was engraved on the back of each pin. This badge granted each wearer free admission to all amusements of the Jubilee.

Cathy Cook, Davis North West Company President, Syracuse, Utah, shared the story of a Jubilee pin that belonged to her great-great-grandmother, Catherine Beach Bullen Toponce, at their Company Jubilee. Several years ago, her father received a phone call from a man in California who had found the pin on a table with other jewelry at a garage sale. Noticing the engraving on the back of the pin, he realized it must hold special meaning to someone. He searched for the last name in Utah and, because it was uncommon, was able to find her father's name in the phone book and give him a call. He asked if he recognized the name engraved on the back of the pin and if he would like to have it. Although he knew nothing about the pin, he was grateful to receive it, knowing that it had belonged to his great-grandmother.

Cathy shared that the family still does not know how the pin ended up on a garage sale table in California. However, its remarkable journey reminded them of the importance of recording and preserving family history for our children and grandchildren. As we learn the stories of our pioneer ancestors, our own courage and faith grow stronger. Through DUP, we are reminded that we, too, can do hard things and face challenges with faith and determination.

PILOT PEAK CAMP PLACES CEMETERY MONUMENT

In 1895, Chris Ammon, a stonemason, overheard some Enterprise men talking about building a reservoir dam. He was quickly recruited to help. Two earthen dams had failed, but with Chris's expertise, the Enterprise dams have held firm for over 100 years. He lived his life and died in Enterprise and was laid to rest in the Enterprise Cemetery. He had no known family, and his temporary marker was decaying. Members of the Pilot Peak Camp, Washington West Company, in Enterprise, Utah, held a dinner to raise funds for a beautiful monument to be placed at his grave. Daughter Faleen Truman and her husband designed the monument.

CAMP SPRINGVILLE SHARING HERITAGE GATHERING

Camp Springville, Springville/Mapleton Company, held a Sharing Heritage Gathering in February. Each daughter was invited to bring an artifact to share with the group. Members brought photos, journals, a biography of Aaron Johnson, founder of Springville, and other artifacts including a rag doll, antique glass, a weathervane, a great-grandmother's bowl and a temple rock.

HIGH DESERT DRUM CAMP JUBILEE

Fifteen daughters, associates, and guests in High Desert Drum Camp, Elmore Company, in Mountain Home, Idaho, met for a Jubilee on June 13, 2026. They enjoyed a pioneer lunch of beans and bacon, cornbread with honey butter, vegetables, fruit salad, and fruit cobblers. A lovely musical number by Daughter Rainy Smyth was followed by thoughts shared by Company President, Carol Shaw. Each attendee was given the opportunity to share some of the memorable lessons they have heard throughout the 28 years of the Camp's existence. They shared gratitude for the lessons and what they learned from them. They were invited to reflect on how their own life experiences have made them pioneers and what has helped them be courageous and were challenged to press forward with faith, like our pioneer ancestors.

TOOELE COUNTY COMPANY PARTICIPATES IN "FRIDAYS ON VINE"

On July 17, 2026, the Tooele County Company joined with Tooele City Parks and Recreation and the Tooele Library for their "Fridays on Vine" festivities. The museum was open to the public. Many enjoyed games, such as spinning tops and throwing bean bags in a game of cornhole. Other games such as hopscotch, jump rope, hula hoop, and button pull were available for those who attended. The group also enjoyed the blacksmith shop where the local blacksmith made rings to wear from horseshoe nails and demonstrated heating and shaping metal. All the children received a wooden spinning top similar to a toy played with by pioneer children.

BRIGHTON CAMP PARTICIPATES IN THE MIDVALE MULTI-STAKE FAMILY SEARCH GENEAOLOGY FAIR

The Genealogy Fair provided an excellent opportunity for the Brighton Camp, Salt Lake Far South East Company, to introduce visitors to the work of the Daughters of Utah Pioneers through crafts, historical displays and personal stories of the early settlers who helped shape our communities. The room featured a variety of activities, including tying two quilts, making no-sew pioneer dolls, assembling button whirligigs, and coloring a booklet featuring the Panguitch Quilt Walkers. There were also informational story charts about the Fort Union Pioneer Cemetery, highlighting its history, ongoing care and preservation, and the lives and stories of the individuals buried there.

The Camp set up displays highlighting the founding of the Daughters of Utah Pioneers, along with its newsletters, past editions of lesson manuals, and information about DUP museums and the organization's historical mission. These materials helped visitors understand the organization's longstanding commitment to preserving pioneer history and passing that heritage on to future generations.

PIONEER OUTREACH EXTRAORDINAIRE

Minidoka Company, in Rupert, Idaho, hosted nearly 60 children from the community in June, for an activity that served a three-fold purpose: the annual Jubilee, a celebration of 125 years of DUP, and an outreach activity extraordinaire. The activity was held at the Minidoka County Museum. Children were divided into five groups. Each group was assigned a station manned by one of the four Minidoka Camps: Indian Paintbrush, Sagebrush, Snake River or Star Bright. The fifth station was manned by Company board members. DUP members dressed in pioneer attire.

Every fifteen minutes, the groups rotated so that eventually children participated in all the activities. Parents were also welcome, and a few stayed with their children. The children heard pioneer stories, received horseshoe nail rings, played pioneer games, made tin can lanterns, twisted their own ropes and took turns cranking the handle to make homemade ice cream they enjoyed for dessert. Parents picked up their children after a very successful and fun two hours.

Handouts explaining the Daughters of Utah Pioneers were distributed to parents. Many parents expressed thanks for the activity and handouts that increased their knowledge of DUP and its existence in Minidoka County.

WHERE IS THIS PIONEER HOME?

This beautiful brick home with a charming, covered porch is one of many owned by the wives of a prominent Mormon pioneer. His younger wives lived in this town and their homes were built by this man's sons, who were trained in carpentry. The town where this home is located was founded by a prominent general authority who also served as a legislator and missionary. Can you guess where this home is? Check the December Bulletin for the answer.
